

Kaminario K-Assured™ No-Risk Trial

WHY TRIAL?

- The fastest way to understand the potential for the K2 is to trial it
- No-risk trial provides opportunity to test our claims
- The best way to understand long term economics is to test effective capacity and actual performance for real world.

Kaminario stands behind the K2 all-flash array with K-Assured: The storage industry's most comprehensive, most straightforward, most valuable business guarantee program. K-Assured includes a highly flexible, 30-day, no-risk trial that lets customers experience the capability of the K2 with the support of Kaminario Professional Services.

K-Assured No-Risk Trial*

Trial your Kaminario K2 with the K-Assured No-Risk Trial for 30 days. Take advantage of Kaminario's Professional Services team to install and configure the K2 to your application environment. Benchmark K2 performance and functionality against the competition and experience the ease of implementation, setup, management, and scaling. Verify actual data reduction capability and effective capacity for your specific application workloads.

*The K-Assured™ no-risk trial program provides a streamlined process for approved customers who order directly from Kaminario to try our equipment. The plan offers a 30-day trial with option to buy the end of the trial period. Kaminario manages all of the logistics of the implementation and setup to ensure a smooth trial experience.
